A TALK WITH GOV J E BROWN

Among my letters of introduction was one from a distinguished Confederate officer to Joseph E Brown, formerly Governor of the State The ex-Governor has settled down in Atlanta, where he is following the law, in partnership with Mr John Pope (no kin to Gen J P, whose headquarters are here also) and is doing very prosperous business I found him at his office, where I had a very courteous reception and a long talk on Georgia politics and prospects I should take Brown to be about fifty He is tall, slim and clean shaved, has a good head, which, pivoting on a very good neck, is covered with hair which is beginning to turn, and though his mouth is somewhat portentous, it does not baulk the pleasant smile he has for every one

Brown has more popular influence in Georgia than any other man True, one would not infer this from talking with the people of Atlanta, who affect to sneer at him as a demagogue and champion of the "wool hats" and "wire grass" boys But long experience has proved that he wields an almost unassailable influence over the commoners of the State He has, beginning with his election in 1857, been Governor of Georgia four times in succession—something unprecedented in the politics of the State He told me with glee, as an evidence that there is something mightier than the pen, that while he had been pretty well supported by the Press during his first two canvasses, he had in the third one only one or two obscure and unenthusiastic weeklies on his side Nevertheless, he was elected by a larger majority than before, while in his fourth canvass, being bitterly opposed by the entire Press, and assailed by a single newspaper, he came in with a more flattering popular vote than ever His is agreed on all hands that he made a capital Executive, and that he has a great talent for business, while even those who oppose his present course do not pretend to pass a whisper against his honesty or his sincerity.

It may be remembered that Brown was one of the first and earliest, and most ardent movers of secession in Georgia Indeed, he seized Fort Pulaski before the State had seceded "I was an original Secessionist," he said, "a Secessionist of the school of Calhoun and Jefferson, and being born in the same district in South Carolina where Calhoun lived, I imbibed his principles at my first lesson in politics" During the war, he stuck fast to his States Rights principles, and in consequence got into trouble with Davis, who soon threw overboard the very doctrine which the secession had made, and became a strong consolidationist. The difficulty first began in regard to the Conscription Law, which was passed by the Confederate Congress in April, 1862 This measure Gov Brown regarded as not only unconstitutional, but wholly unnecessary, and indeed, most disastrous—a measure out of which grew nearly all the woes that befell the Confederacy As a proof that it was unnecessary, he said that he had met every call for troops by a [illegible] of fifty per cent more than was asked Just before the Conscription Act was passed Richmond authorities asked for twelve regiments, he offered eighteen. With the waning fortunes of the rebellion the relations between Brown and Davis grew worse and worse, and finally ended in a terrible flare-up—Jeff going about the country and denouncing him as a "scoundrel" He gave me many interesting revelations of the inside history of the Confederacy, but was unwilling these should be made public as yet

With the close of the war, Brown accepted the situation with the utmost promptitude of the new nominee, he is, of all the men in the regime, the man who has all along taken the most vaco ground on the question of reconstructio 'As I was prominent in getting the State into rebellion," said he, very sensibly, 'I thought it my duty to do all I could to aid in getting it back into the Union" Accordingly, immediately after the war, when he returned to Washington [illegible] he had been imprisoned, and came to [illegible] address resigning the office of Governor, he urged the people to come promptly and frankly up[illegible] the terms of the North He favored and private advocated, the Constitutional Amendment, [illegible] he observed, "I saw there was no earthly chance of carrying it, Governor Jenkins was opposed to it and came out in a message against it." When the Military Bill passed last spring, he be immediately urging the acceptance of that [illegible] has been warmly advocating it ever since He is entirely out of politics himself, but whatever time he can spare from his business he employs in addressing his people, urging them to a frank acceptance of the terms of Congress, and to action under those terms

A GLANCE AT THE BATTLE FIELDS.

In the afternoon Colonel Simms, of this place a gentleman of worth and excellent intelligence, came with a handsome team to drive me over the battle ground of Atlanta Colonel Simms is the owner of a plantation of 1 000 acres of which he has this year 600 acres in hand Before the war he had some sixty slaves, and not one of his people has left him Last year he paid the freedmen wages, but this year employer and employes have entered into an arrangement on shares, he providing houses, stock, farming implements and seed, and taking half the products He does not attend personally to his plantation, and yet he employs no white overseer, his affairs being well managed by a black man whom he has had all his life, and whom he described as very intelligent, with "good ideas in farming and business and politics"

The scene of the main combat before Atlanta lies a couple of miles to the northeast of the city, and our journey thither was a very agreeable one The most interesting part of the ground is that whereon was fought the great battle of the 22d of July, when Hood (who had lately superceded Gen Joe Johnston), made a tremendous attack with the design of overwhelming Sherman The breastworks remain undisturbed and untouched, save by the flaws of weather, and we rode over the lines from flank to flank The key point is a commanding ridge which the Union troops succeeded in wresting from the Confederates on the 21st of July and from which one overlooks all the surrounding ground The Union left flank occupied this height and extended somewhat to the east of it. After looking over the ground I feel as though I might venture the opinion that Hood's plan of attack merits more praise than has ordinarily been accorded it on either side It is true the execution failed [illegible] but this, as I have learned from a high Confederate officer, was entirely due to the blundering of Hardee, who commanded the Confederate right, and who utterly failed to carry out his instructions It was near the high ground I have mentioned that the gallant McPherson lost his life on the 22d, and we paid a reverential visit to the spot where he fell

It so happened that we had an opportunity during the visit of seeing the saddest of all the memorials of the battle—I mean the bones of some of the slain. For some time past the burial corps has been employed in disinterring the bodies of the men killed in the vicinity of Atlanta, and from Peach Tree Creek down I was informed they have already taken up about 2,500 They have now reached the battle field The party was composed of some fifteen or twenty blacks under direction of a white foreman, and when we reached the ground they had just opened a long trench in which many scores of the Union slain had been buried It was a mere shallow ditch of about two feet deep, and when the superincumbent earth was removed there was exposed to view a long row of the ghastly and sickening relics of humanity, each mouldering frame wrapped in the bloody clothes in which he had been laid away in a soldier's burial I had the curiosity to look while they took up and coffined one of the bodies, and I was able to get the name and a brief epitome of him who had borne it, for some comrade had inscribed on a rude board the legend

A brief epitome indeed, but not without its pathos There are now thousands of graves scattered all over the extensive grounds on which the contest raged and the work now going on is with the view of gathering together the dead in a national cemetery similar to that at Gettysburg and other points.

The population of Mississippi by a State census just taken, is 724,718, viz whites 343,460, colored, 381,258 The city of Vicksburg returns a population of 8,167, and Natchez, 8,491.

" Lafayette..... " 20.
" Sheridan..... " 21.
" Hillsboro..... " 23.

Speaking to commence at 1 o'clock P. M. each day.

The Crisis.

We are glad to observe that the great men of this place who, for some time, have been chiefly engaged in "fomenting and conducting the petty war of village vexation,"-have found a new opportunity for the exercise of their shining talents. A simple case arises, involving the title to an office, which could have been settled in twenty-four hours by appealing to competent authority; but these little great ones magnify it to the most wonderful proportions; discuss it with as much interest as they could possibly evince if the whole fabric of Government were in danger—and even with more interest than they ever exhibited when this danger actually threatened the country; babble about "force" and "military power" and "bloodshed" and "lost liberties," and propose and talk over all sorts of ways, means, processes and measures except the one simple thing that would decide the whole matter. Mr. Councilman Hallock rises in his place and makes a tremendous speech on the great question, beginning with the attack on Sumter and closing with the incarceration of the "stern statesman," at Fortress Monroe; another Councilman springs to his feet, and, believing that he has the remedy which will do the business, proposes that as one officer has refused to obey the Council, another officer shall at once be turned out of his place: still another demand that in view of probable emergencies, an extra session of the Council shall be authorized to take measures to meet the alarming crisis; the city organ comes out with a ponderous article of two columns, descanting upon the magnitude of the issues at stake, appealing to the faithful to stand firm in the hour of danger, endeavoring to nerve them for the shock by telling them that "none but cowards undeserving of the blessings of free government" would show the white feather on an occasion like this, alluding to old John Brown and Secretary Stanton and making side lunges at Horace Greeley and the "Radical candidate for Governor of California." On the streets the talk has been going for two days among the intelligent "conservatives" voices of the city, that blood was certain to flow. That it has not begun to flow yet is probably due to the happy and opportune discovery that it is somewhat thicker than water. Meantime the call has been issued for a special meeting of the Council. When that body convenes on Monday next a select audience will probably be regaled with some eloquent speeches on secession and other relevant topics; some more bristling resolutions will probably be passed; somebody will frame a little and possibly swear a little; some highly respectable gentlemen will exhibit a considerable length of ware, and then the Council will quietly adjourn. After that we may expect either two columns article from the city organ, lamenting the decline of its former call. By the time these proceedings arose to afford amusement for spectators, it is to be hoped that those who are engaged in them may recover enough of their senses to see that the only way to proceed in the case is simply to submit it to judicial authority and let it be decided according to law.

Model Democratic Argument.

A decision was recently rendered by the Kentucky Court of Appeals nullifying the Civil Rights Law. The object of this decision was to protect a fiendishly inhuman right to steal from a negro. A man named Bowlin was convicted in one of the Circuit Courts of grand larceny. The property stolen belonged to a négro, and the crime was proven conclusively by the testimony of several colored persons. The conviction was set aside by the Court of Appeals on the ground that the laws of Kentucky do not allow the testimony of colored persons to be heard against white defendants, and the opinion was sustained by that enlightened method of Democratic logic which argues that if the laws can protect a negro in his property and prevent a white man from stealing it, they can enforce social equality and compel our sisters and daughters to marry negroes. That it may be seen what this Democratic Judge has actually asserted, we quote:

> The political power exists to make and enforce contracts, etc., attempted to be given by that bill, to black citizens, would require the marriage between the two, destroy the Caucasian blood, and be destructive to the moral and legislative decorum of States.

This is truly a climaxer. It is the final argument by which the Democratic mind invariably justifies the oppression of the negro. The decision of the Kentucky judge will be applauded everywhere by every boorish with ignorance and prejudice. He has placed his reason for allowing a white man to steal from a negro on grounds fully level with the ill-reasoning of Oregon Democrats. They can appreciate this style of argument and think it unanswerable. The reasoning of the judge is of the same sort which has often moved the fears of intelligent young Democratic mothers, when in the party processions in the rural districts great wagon loads of these damsels have been seen making the imploring appeal on their banners "Fathers, save us from negro equality!" or flaunting the significant and desperate defiance: "White husbands or none!"

The judge of the Circuit Court before whom the case was tried, and who sentenced the offender, delivered an address to the colored people of Lexington after the Superior court had set aside the conviction, in which he uttered the following sentences:

> "He said from the time he was twenty-one years old he had longed and wished for their emancipation, and with pleasure accepted the invitation to address them. That true, they were emancipated, but their freedom was inchoate, or imperfect. It needed consolidation That they were not protected by our laws. That he recently sentenced a white man upon negro testimony to the State Prison. The man had come under the roof of a negro and enjoyed his hospitality and stole his money. That by the rulings of the Superior Court the scoundrel was now free. That any white man could enter your church-houses, shoot your minister down in the pulpit, and never be harmed; or enter your cabin and never be harmed for the murder of your children, because you are not allowed to testify in courts. That you are tried by white men, and they 'hate you because you are free.'"

This is Kentucky Democracy. And it is the spirit of Democracy everywhere. Yet that party claims to be "the best friend of the negro, as it is the best friend of all races of men!"

In a communication published in this paper yesterday a statement was made that Mr. Hallock, "when secession was an issue, gave it his approval." Mr. Hallock desires to contradict this statement. He says further, that he never acted with the Union party in any election during secession times, for the reason that shortly after the party was formed, he discovered that it was simply the Republican party under another name. It is well known here that he signed the call for the organization of the Union party, but when that party held its first Convention it declined to give him a nomination, whereupon Mr. Hallock in turn declined to give the party his support. We are glad to do Mr. Hallock the justice of placing him right on the record. He appears to be one of that class of gentlemen who have always been strongly in favor of the Union, but equally strongly opposed to the employment of any measures for its preservation. Hence his adhesion to the Democratic party during the war.

Here is a statement worthy of Pollard. It is from the Montgomery (Ala.) Mail: "For what ever we have written or may write reflecting upon the conduct of individuals, the editors of the Mail hold themselves entirely responsible, and will promptly answer any one who wears a clean shirt and has not been in the penitentiary."

The Washington Chronicle publishes the following figures relative to the public revenue of Great Britain and Ireland for the year ending June 30, 1867: The return from excise amounted to $90,000,000. The whole revenue from all sources adds up to $350,000,000 per annum. The other resources are derived from stamps, land assessors' taxes, post office, and property tax; but, out of $350,000,000, $200,000,000 are supplied by the customs and excise duties, being actually four sevenths of the whole. It is to be noticed that the customs duties, yielding $110,000,000, are almost wholly derived from five articles of universal consumtion—such as tea and coffee, sugar, tobacco, spirits, and wine. The duties leviable on hops, dried fruits, and timber, are so small as scarcely to make a tangible item in this account. The post office, which (partly owing to the franking privilege and its abuses) is a financial loss in this country, yielded a net profit of $22,500,000 to the British treasury in the year 1866-67.

LETTERS FROM THE INTERIOR OF THE STATE.

[FROM OUR TRAVELING CORRESPONDENT.]

JACKSONVILLE, Aug. 4, 1867.

STAGING.

I have traveled down Snake river in a miserable skiff, glided over the Cowlitz rapids in an Indian canoe, and rode in all manner of small boats in the boisterous waters of the Columbia river about Astoria, but nothing of that nature makes me feel so skittish as a night drive on the stage, over the mountain waves of the Umpqua valley. Sometimes scaling dizzy hights, and rapidly wheeling over "grades" around abrupt hillsides with yawning gulfs below, or, plunging headlong down into some dark valley, you know not how or where, is by no means pleasant to the inexperienced stager; and when colored by a dark night and backed by a vivid imagination, it is capable of producing the most peculiar sensations. But I suppose it's all a "notion"—the driver says there is no danger, and he ought to know. There seems to be fewer accidents by stage, than by rail, or by water, so it must be the safest way to travel, unless one goes "on foot." Staging is almost science, and the system and order by which this long line is conducted, is quite wonderful. The Oregon Stage Company have been fortunate in securing the service of a corps of gentlemanly and obliging Agents, and safe and intelligent drivers.

We reached

at four in the morning, tired and sleepy. But I soon found a comfortable bed at D.C. McCallan's, who never fails to unde the wayfaring man as comfortable as possible. Canyonville is at the end of the "good country," or, as some fellow says, "the last of God's country." From there on south for thirty or forty miles, it is mountainous and barren, with a few small exceptions. This little place is now but thriving. It has 3 dry goods stores, 1 drug store, 2 blacksmith shops, 1 wagon shop, 1 saddle and harness shop, 1 boot and shoe shop, 1 photographic gallery, 1 hotel, 2 saloons, 1 brewery, 1 grist mill and 1 tannery, besides two sawmills, and one grist mill near the town, and a distillery, not now in operation. The people of the town and vicinity are enterprising and intelligent, and stick closely to business. This is the strongest Union precinct in Douglas county. Canyonville is situated at the mouth of the great

CANYON.

This canyon was first explored in 1846, by the Applegates, and through their efforts a road was opened through it. It is nine miles long, and for many years was the dread of every traveler on account of the almost impassible condition of the road. But now it is one of the best roads in the State,—a toll road. The canyon is very narrow, walled on either side by mountains high and steep. The soil is poor and rocky. The trees are heavy with long gray moss, that makes them seem to have grown old with weary years of sucking life from the sterile soil of this solitary place. From Canyonville to Rocky Point, (12 miles North of Jacksonville) the greater part of the country is mountainous and barren. There are a few good farms on Cow Creek; a tributary of the Umpqua, and also a few on Grove Creek, a tributary of Rogue river, and there is some good land along the Rogue river bottoms. We passed through several mining district, whore acres and acres of the "bed rock" is left bare, the soil having all been washed away, leaving the face of the country looking as desolate as possible.

P. W. G.

Against the Indians.

Governor Smith has called for eight hundred men for the defense of the Territory, and "native service be at once ordered." That has the true ring in it. We acknowledge an indebtedness to the army of observation on the Yellowstone. They have done good service—more than they will ever be credited with. The look on the door is insignificant and unthought of, but its absence side the burglar welcome, and we then appreciate its usefulness. The Montana Militia have been the luck on the door of this Territory. The have prevented, and have been the only prevention, to the scenes within our borders that have made Colorado, Nebraska, Kansas and the neighboring Territories red with the blood of slaughtered victims to savage fiendishness, and impor erishs by their outlawry. Our settlers have been secure in person an property, while thousands of the same tribes of Indians have been encamped within 150 miles of our valleys. We are likely to forget that prevention is better than cure, but the people of other sections to-day are unable to cure what we have prevented. Let the red monsters be taught a lesson. Carry the war where it belongs, into the heart of the enemy's country, and teach them the lesson they need. Governor Smith has authority to raise volunteers and conduct this campaign for the welfare of the citizens of this Territory. There are no official heads at stake, as were Chivington's and Connor's. There are as good men as they in the field. The way is open, and unless we have better guarantees of peace, and assurance that the Territory will not be again isolated by the wall of scalping knives, or its prosperity retarded by the hindrances to emigration and the transportation of machinery, let the barbarians be put on a reservation that will last them until eternity rolls in through the gates of time.

The continued silence of the Herald in regard to the Methodists is inexplicable. Last week nearly all the ministers of the denomination were assembled here, yet that paper, for a wonder, omitted to denounce them as "thieves," "liars" and "Radical vagabonds." What can be the cause of this unusual silence? Is the Herald ascertaining that it "don't pay" to calumniate a respectable and powerful religious denomination as it has been doing heretofore? Probably, as a missionary motive is the only principle it knows.

A SHOT AT THE DUCKS.—There is a story told of Sheridan, how one day, when returning unsuccessfully from shooting, never having bagged a single bird, he saw a flock of ducks in a pond, and a laboring man at work hard by. Determined, if possible, to have something to show for his day's sport, he asked the man how much he would charge him to take one shot at the brood. The fellow replied, "a crown." Sheridan fired and tumbled over seven of them. "Well, my honest friend, how do you like your bargain?" asked Sheridan, triumphantly. "Well enough," muttered the other; "the dooks is nane o' mine."

WE PLEDGE OUR REPUTATION for the fulfillment of what we here declare. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after Mrs. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP has been administered. Cures dysentery and diarrhœa, and wind colic. Sure to regulate the bowels. Price 35 cents a bottle. Hostetter, Smith & Dean, Agents for the Pacific Coast.

SORE THROAT, Croup, Cold, and similar troubles, if suffered to progress, result in serious pulmonary affections, oftentimes incurable. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" reach directly the seat of the disease, and give almost instant relief. They have been thoroughly tested, and maintain the good reputation they have justly acquired. As there are imitations, be sure to obtain the genuine.

THE FAMILY DYE COLORS.—Nothing has obtained so wide a reputation, nor one more merited than the Family Dye Colors of Howe & Stevens. The colors include every desirable shade, and are as fadeless as they are beautiful.—Sold by Smith & Davis.

NEWS FOR THE LADIES.—Dry Goods, Fancy as well as Staple, Flan as well as Common, will shortly arrive and be for sale at extremely low figures at the Store of KOHN & FISHEL, No 91 Front street, who will receive, in addition to their already extensive stock, a new invoice of Dry Goods, which they will offer at prices to induce Ladies to purchase of them.

Buchtel's Photograph Gallery is the only establishment in Oregon that is thoroughly prepared to do all the different styles of work in the art Photographs from card to life size: The new cabinet cards, &c., &c Small pictures enlarged (retouched in India ink—painted in water-colors or oil by Mrs. S. J. Rumsey. Pictures that are finding can be reproduced in this way. All negatives taken in this gallery will be carefully preserved, and additional copies had. I have now on hand a very large collection of negatives, the names of which are recorded alphabetically in a book for that purpose that can be seen in the reception room.

REDDING'S

RUSSIA SALVE!

[ESTABLISHED 1806.]

Price 25 Cents per Box.

In the Universal Remedy for

BURNS, SCALDS, COAX, BRUISES, and all FLESH WOUNDS; for CHILBLAINS, CHAPPED HANDS, PILES and OLD SCROFULOUS SORES; ERUPTIONS, BLOTCHES, SALT RHEUM, and all CUTANEOU DISEASES.

REDDING'S RUSSIA SALVE is a purely Vegetable Ointment, made from the very best materials, and combines in itself greater HEALING POWERS than any other preparation before the public. Its timely application has been the means of saving thousands of valuable lives, of relieving a vast amount of suffering, and wherever used has proved itself in reality A BOON TO SUFFERING HUMANITY.

The very large sale of REDDING'S RUSSIA SALVE, during the past sixty years, has given rise to hundreds of unworthy imitations, but throughout all opposition, the RUSSIA SALVE maintains its supremacy as a reliable preparation, having a steady and permanent sale, and never deteriorating in quality, by age or climate, and is sold to dealers at a price enabling them to realize a generous profit by its sale.

For sale by all Druggists and Apothecaries.

JOKES OF GRAVE SUBJECTS.—The wags of this city have been having a jolly time over the excitement consequent upon the contest for the Marshalship. Jokes serious, jokes lugubrious, jokes legitimate, jokes with a moral and jokes without a moral, have flown about as thick as summer flies. One very grave authority yesterday morning compared Hoyt to Stanton, which most people regard as a very good joke—when properly explained. Another authority, not so grave, says it similes and comparisons are to be drawn from men and things at the East, he thinks Rosenheim closely resembles McClellan; more so, that yesterday, after the noise and thunder of the day before, he was invisible, leading naturally to the supposition that he had 'changed his base' and gone on board his gunboat for a quiet nap. During the "bloody Thursday," it was said that in anticipation of corpses being numerous, toward evening, the undertakers of the city had summoned a "special force" to be in readiness to clap together boxes enough to answer the expected unusual demand. The coffin business really did appear to be looking up. Lone Fir Cemetery stock was in high request by several inveterate jokingers who expected to lose friends in the "impending crisis." Several of the doctors were reported as grinding their knives and filing their saws, preparatory to the sad work which it seemed it would be impossible to avoid doing for the wounded. One or two merchants who had full cribs that the season of mourning was about to open, were reported as busy in calculating whether their supplies of crape would go round. Grass we were all these matters, the jokers availed to draw fun out of them. The "unbelieving dogs" probably had no conception of the fact that the public safety hung all that bloody day, on a "verge as it were." Verily, "in the midst of death we are in life."

ODD-FAST CITY ITEMS.—We copy the following items from the Enterprise received last evening. Willamette Lodge No. 15, I. O. G. T., now numbers 164 contributing members in this city. It will send nine delegates, or representatives, to the Grand Lodge which is to meet at Portland on the first Tuesday in September next. The following officers for the ensuing term were duly installed by Lodge Deputy Peter Paquet, on Saturday evening last: W L White, W C T; Mrs M White, W R H S; Mrs M Pease, W L H S; Miss H Pamburn, W V T; C O T Williams, W S; Miss A Good, W A S; A G White, W F S; Miss S Hunsaker, W T; H Harding, W M; Mrs M Bray, W D M; Miss E Hunsaker, W I G; J L Hibbard, W O G; T J Spooner, W C; J M Bacon P W C T..... Mad. Foye held two public seances in this city, this week. Some things were propounded in mysterious ways, and generally the public thought very strange of them.....

For a year past by far the most desirable improvements in this city have been made on the bluff.....Mr. Newman, of Salem, exhibited in this city on Thursday and Friday last, the largest steer we have ever seen. Indeed, but five bovines ever attain near the size of this, which has been termed the Oregon baby. It was raised by Mr. Thomas Cross, of Salem, and weighs 3,089 pounds. Mr. Newman will exhibit the monster at the California State Fair, and dispose of him in that part of the country before returning to Oregon.

MAIL STOPPED.—We are informed that the mail between Walla Walla and Fort Colville has been stopped, by the ... of the contract by the carrier. The compensation, $4,000, was altogether inadequate and the contractor, after losing as much as he could afford to, stopped the service. Postal Agent Brooks went up there a few days since, with a view to making temporary arrangements for the resumption of service; but was met with instructions to the effect that not more than $1,500 should be paid. Of course it was utterly impossible to procure anybody to carry the mails for that sum, and so there can be no service till the Postoffice Department shall receive fuller instructions. Mr. Brooks, we learn, has written to the Postmaster General, urging the need of service, and the impossibility of procuring it at the sum named in the late instructions.

SPECIAL MEETING OF THE COUNCIL.—The "crisis" upon the happening of which, the Mayor was instructed to call a special meeting of the council, arrived on Thursday, and the Mayor yesterday morning issued his proclamation for a special meeting Monday evening. The Recorder not having the fear of the Council before his eyes, continued on Thursday, to deliver the processes issued, to Mr. Hoyt instead of to Mr. Farnham. This, in the opinion of a majority of the Council, constitutes "misfeasance in office," which, as the resolution of Wednesday evening says, "will subject him to removal." The object of the meeting Monday evening is not stated in the Mayor's notice, but general conjecture has it that it is for the purpose of removing the Recorder!

MURDER.—The court-martial mentioned some days since as having been convened in this city, is still in session.....The late M. E. Conference among others, adopted the following resolutions: "Resolved, That we request the Bishop, for and in our behalf, to communicate by telegraph with the Secretary of War, requesting him if consistent with the interests of the service to transfer Rev. J. O. Raynor, Chaplain in the U. S. Army, from service at Fort Grant, Arizona, to service at Sitka."..... The Idaho World of the 10th says: "A train has been sent from Fort Hall to build a Fur Company military post at Hatchet-bone Point, on Sylvia river, fifteen miles from old Camp Wright, in the Malheur country."

A MINIATURE SAIL BOAT.—One of the boys had out, on the river, yesterday, a little sloop-rigged cutter which attracted a considerable attention. It is only about three feet in length, with about twelve inches beam; is decked over; and carries a main sail which measures each way more than the length of the hull. Everything is so nicely adjusted that it sails steadily upon one tack till the sails are shifted. When the wind blows stiffly it comes up sharp to the wind, and when the wind lulls, the little craft falls off. The hull was made by an Indian near Astoria—dug out of a solid block of wood, and it is said that a larger boat built there after its model is the fastest sailer on the river.

DISSOLUTION OF THANKS.—The following resolution was adopted by the Oregon Conference during its late session in this place, and the Secretary was instructed to furnish it to the city papers for publication:

Resolved, That the cordial thanks of this body are due and are hereby tendered to the kind friends of this city, for the cordial and generous manner in which they have entertained the Conference; and the comfortable homes they have furnished for the preachers and their families during its session.

BETTER THAN EXPECTED.—Lt. Clawson, superintendent of the work in the Oregon Iron Works, informs us that, in overhauling the machinery which passed through the scathing fire of July 3d, he finds much of it far in better condition than he had expected. A good many entire machines can be placed in running order by a little turning and planing. In some of them, only a few pieces will be necessary. We are glad to learn that the company find themselves able to save so much where they had expected to lose all.

OATS.—After our market report had gone to press last evening, we were informed by a leading produce buyer that oats are very scarce in the city and that the price has advanced. We quote the advanced price in the weekly issue; but the information came too late for the daily. Our informant says that, yesterday, there were probably not over twenty bushels on sale in the city, and he thought the price would advance to 37½ cents, unless an unexpected supply should come in.

I. O. O. T.—The following is a list of the officers of Pearl Lodge No. 12, I. O. G. T. for the current term, installed August 1st: L H Calkins, W C T; C A Calkins, W V T; J Q Welch, W S; Miss Agie McGowan, W T; Leroy Shipley, W F S; M Monahow, W M; Miss Annie Schade, W D M; H McGowan, W I G; S H Lyon, W O G; Mrs Mary Ingalls, W R H S; Mrs J A Coleman, W L H S; O K P Coss, W C; W L Coleman, P W C T.

INTERESTED IN AN IRON MINE.—We have a letter from St. Helens, which says Col Hayward and W. S. Ladd of Portland have bought a controlling interest in the iron mines near the town of St. Helens. With the exception of a small interest retained by Mr. Wm. Watts, the original owner, the mine is now owned by Messrs Ainsworth, Reed, Ladd and Hayward. They intend to begin the work of developing the mine at no distant day.

ROCK SPECIMENS.—We were shown, yesterday, by Mr. A. G. Bradford, some very fine specimens brought down this summer from the Poorman and the Crook & Jennings ledges, Idaho. Some of them were almost pure silver, while many of them range from 80 to 92 per cent. of pure silver. The work now going on in those mines is developing riches of the most fabulous sort.

THE DEATH OF S. B. VANCE.—The Sacramento Bee of the 6th inst., has the following paragraph: "Samuel B. Vance, who was shot by Thomas A. Carberry, at Austin, Nevada, on the night of August 2d, died yesterday morning. Shortly before he died he sent for Carberry, upon whose arrival he freely admitted that he was wholly to blame, and asked his forgiveness."

TOMATOES.—Mr O'Connor received at his produce store, yesterday, a very fine lot of tomatoes grown at the Dalles. There are very few, if any, ripe ones as yet in this valley. The country east of the mountains, is decidedly ahead of us in respect of summer fruits and vegetables.

PRECAUTION.—The Secretary of the Pioneer Club desires to proclaim that all the members are wanted on the grounds this evening at half-past five o'clock. There is no "crisis" that he knows of, but in these days, it is difficult to say how soon there may be one.

THE RAILROAD.—We received a telegram from Salem, yesterday from a gentleman who resides here, saying: "I have seen the advices from the East. The railroad is a fixed fact; work to be commenced soon. Look out for the cars and the bridge."

OPERA TO-NIGHT.—The Bianchi opera troupe will appear this evening at Odd Fellows Hall, in Bellini's grand opera of Somnambula. The performance will close with Donizetti's comic cavatina entitled Mamma Agatha.

THE NEXT STEAMER.—To-day is the regular day for the steamer's departure from San Francisco for Portland. We have no information as to what steamer will come; but suppose it will be the Oriflamme.

LAUNCHED.—The repairs to the hull of the dredger having been completed, the vessel was put upon ways yesterday afternoon, and slid into the river. The other hulls will be launched soon.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF IDAHO—BOISE CITY, I. T.—Organized March 11th, 1867, (with circulation) under Act of Congress, approved June 3d, 1864. Authorized capital $500,000. Paid up capital, $100,000. B. M. Bunnell, President. C. W. Moore, Cashier. Collections of Notes and Accounts on the principal places in Idaho Territory promptly attended to. Exchange for Coin or Currency on this Bank can be purchased of Ladd & Tilton, Portland, Oregon.

STATE ITEMS.

The preliminary steps have been taken to effect the sale of the Oregon City Seminary. The proceeds are to go into the endowment fund of the Willamette University. We quote from the Advocate:

A bed of coal has been discovered at Salem about thirty feet below the surface. It is very light says the Record, resembles charcoal and appears to be clear of all foreign substance. Dr. Wythe has tested it, and is of opinion that it is not of much value. It is probably part of a large deposit of drift wood that has become carbonized.

Mr. Ezra Rinehart, says a Jacksonville paper, who used to live near Phoenix, met with his death on the 3d inst. by falling forward from his wagon between the horses, the animals kicking and stamping him to death. Dec—ased never spoke after he fell. The body was horribly mangled.

The Record says: The friends of Hugh Logan, son of the late Wm. Logan of the Dalles, will be pleased to learn that Mr. Mallory has secured his appointment from this Congressional District to the Naval Academy at Annapolis. Hugh Logan is a young man of promise—worthy son of a father whose untimely death by the wreck of the Brother Jonathan is much lamented, and we consider this appointment the best one that could have been made.

The Advocate furnishes the following statistics of the M. E. Church: "Ten preachers were admitted on trial at our Conference session, and five were re-admitted, adding fifteen to our effective force in the itinerant field. None have died and none have been located. One, who had been on the superannuated list, was made effective, and one more was added to the supernumerary list. One was added to the list by transfer, and one was removed. The statistics show an increase, for the year of 582 probationers, and 111, in full membership. The total increase is 693, and the total membership is 4,938.

THE PRESIDENT CAUGHT.—The Washington Chronicle calls attention to the fact that in March last, Mr Julian of Indiana reported a bill in the House of Representatives prohibiting the further issue of Agricultural College script to the Rebel States until they should be restored by Congress to their Constitutional relations to the Union. The bill passed both Houses, and received the approval of the President. The following was the Preamble to the Act:

WHEREAS, on the 3d day of April, 1866, by the authority and direction of the President of the United States, Agricultural College script, covering nearly two hundred and seventy thousand acres, was issued and delivered to the State of North Carolina, under the act of Congress of July 5, 1862, providing for agricultural Colleges; and whereas, by the same authority, the General Land Office is now preparing to issue scrip in like manner to the States of Virginia, Georgia and Missis sippi; and whereas said action of the President takes for granted that said States are restored to their proper Constitutional relation in the Union, and are to be recognized in all respects as entitled to the rights of the other States of the Union, which question Congress alone can rightfully determine; therefore, be it resolved, &c.

This language, which bears the official endorsement of Andrew Johnson, does not read as though Congress was regarded by the President as a "usurpation" "a body hanging on the verge of the Governments." Whether he was drunk or sober, when he signed the bill, he subscribed to a great fact.

A CLOUD-BURST.—The Austin Reveille of August 5th, relates the following remarkable circumstance:

We have been informed that there was a "cloud-burst" on Saturday, about sixteen miles to the northward of Austin, which did considerable damage to the ranches in the locality. The fall of water was sudden and very heavy. On the farm of Mr. Spencer the grain was beaten down or uprooted, and the uncocked hay was scattered and covered with debris. The adjoining claims of Wilson and Bradley received much damage from the sand, gravel and stones which were deposited upon them by the rushing water.

Since the foregoing was written we have received further information that a tremendous fall of hailstones accompanied the water. Persons from the neighborhood tell the incredible story that at the cessation of the storm they found the hailstones lying upon the ground to the depth of two feet.

A HIT AT CORRESPONDENTS.—We find the following good "hit" in an exchange. Those who have been in the "noospaper" business will appreciate it:

A publisher of a paper made arrangements with a man in a neighboring town to furnish him with news items from that locality. The result of the arrangement is as follows, and was rather startling:

"There 's not much nooz around here yit, but there is a little. A man had his hed cut in a fite last nite; the doctor says that if he don't get well afore mornin, he will have to die, sartin. He leves 1 small wife and a family. Another man is sick an I guess he's got the kollery but some people says his wife pisoned him, the doctor kant tell yit, but when he dies they are goin to hold a post morting over him. Another man's horse died last nite. He could eat most than enny 5 cattel round, and since he dide ours hev gone down to sents on a bushel. This is all the nooz here now. Don't forgit to send a paypur.

YOUR KORISPONDENT."

PERFECTLY EXHILARATING.—Such were our feelings as we stepped into the Music and Art Gallery of W. T. Shanahan, on First street, a few days since, and listened to the delightful tones and harmony which came from one of Mason & Hamlin's Cabinet Organs. From the soft breathing flute tones to the thundering bass of the pipe organ, all was equally free and sweet. And why is it other makers cannot produce instruments like these? Mason & Hamlin were the first to introduce the Cabinet Organ, and have gained such world-wide notoriety that it requires the work of two large factories to supply the demand for these valuable instruments.

DRAKE'S PLANTATION BITTERS
Have been of great service in making people healthy, and keeping them so. They should be found in every household.
They give tone to the Stomach, vigor to the body, and remove dark doubts and unhappy feelings from the mind. They relieve pain and fortify the whole system against the attacks of disease.
There is nothing better to take "for the Stomach sake" than the PLANTATION BITTERS.
They cure Dyspepsia, Heartburn, Indigestion, Drowsiness, Headache, Pain in the Side, Liver Complaint, and Rheumatic Pains, with magical power.
A good effect is felt at once upon making the first trial. No change of diet is necessary. Eat the best you can get and all you want. Follow our directions and you will soon feel
WELL, STRONG AND HEARTY.
A great many side hits are being made at the Plantation Bitters, by a score or two of disinterested friends who have endeavored to imitate or counterfeit them. It's all of no use. The people won't be imposed upon. The Plantation Bitters are increasing in use and popularity every day, and "that's what's the matter." They are the same sized bottle, and made just as they were at first, and will continue to be, or we shall stop making them.
They create a healthy appetite.
They are an antidote to change of water and diet.
They overcome effects of dissipation and late hours.
They strengthen the system and enliven the mind.
They prevent miasmatic and intermittent fevers.
They cure Dyspepsia and Constipation.
They cure Diarrhœa, Cholera and Cholera Morbus.
They cure Liver Complaint and Nervous Headache.
They are the best Bitters in the world. They make the weak strong, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. The Recipe and full Circular are around each bottle. Clergymen, Merchants, and persons whose sedentary habits induce weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, liver complaint, constipation, &c., will find immediate and permanent relief in these Bitters. But above all, they are recommended to weak and delicate females and mothers.
They are sold by all respectable merchants. See that each bottle has our private United States Stamp over the cork and steel plate side label.
Beware of refilled bottles. See that the stamp has not been tampered with. Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters by the gallon is a swindler and impostor, and should be immediately reported to us.

David's Child.

"Is the child dead?" And they said, "He is dead."

In face of great sorrow like to death,
How do we wrestle night and day with tears;
How do we fast and pray; how small appears
The outside world, while, hanging on some breath
Of fragile hope, the chamber where we lie
Includes all space. But if sudden at last
The blow falls, or by incredulity
Fond fed, we—never having once thought cast
Toward years where "the child" was not—see it die,
And with it all our future, all our past—
We just look round us with a dull surprise,
For lesser pangs we had filled earth with cries
Of wild and angry grief that would be heard;
But when the heart is broken—not a word.

SUNDAY COLUMN.

The longer I live the more do I estimate the importance of a proper observance of the Christian Sabbath, and the more grateful do I feel toward those who take the pains to impress a sense of its importance on the community. The Lord's day is the day on which the gospel is preached; it is the day of public worship throughout the Christian world, and although we live in a reading age, and in a reading community, yet the preaching of the gospel is the form in which human agency has been and is still the most efficaciously employed for the spiritual improvement of men. That the poor had the gospel preached to them was an evidence of his mission which the Author of Christianity himself proclaimed; and to the public worship of the Deity, and the preaching of the gospel, the observance of the Sabbath is obviously essential.—Webster.

How beautiful is that admonition of St. James from the propriety of the imagery under which the precept is conveyed! He exhorts to govern the tongue; which, though so small a member of the body, is capable of such great effect that to govern the tongue is to govern the whole man. "If any man offend not in word, the same is a perfect man, and able also to bridle the whole body. Behold we put bits in the horses' mouths that they may obey us, and we turn about the whole body. Behold, also the ships, though they be so great, and are driven of fierce winds, yet are they turned about with a very small helm, whithersoever the governor listeth." Nothing upon the subject can possibly exceed the eloquence of this passage; and the apostle carries on his discourse all the way in the same beautiful style of allusion.

It is said that once in a company of literary gentlemen Mr. Webster was asked if he could comprehend how Jesus Christ could be both God and man. He replied promptly and emphatically: "No sir—and I added, "I would be ashamed to acknowledge him as my Savior if I could comprehend him. If I could comprehend him he would be a greater than myself. Such is my sense of my sinfulness and consciousness of my inability to save myself that I feel I need a superhuman Savior, one so great and glorious that I cannot comprehend him."

The same God that moulded the sun and kindled the stars, and sees the flight of the insect. He who balances the worlds and hung the earth upon nothing, is conscious of the sparrow. He who gave Satan power to raise and placed the moon like a ball of silver in the vault of Heaven, gives the most lowly of his creatures life, and made the dust man to whom the world is created. And the same being notices the heart's sigh and the prayer of the little child.

Rev. Dr. Malcom said at the anniversary of the London Missionary Society, that there are now employed 166 missionaries and 1,400 native assistants; there are 11 mission churches with 26,000 members, a community of 130,000 nominal Christians. The annual contributions was £79,956 (which £10,000 were in native Christians). The year's receipts had exceeded the expense by one hundred pounds.

A Hoax.—The report speaking of the Democratic State Convention of California at Marysville says it goes back to the Copperhead State Convention of 1861 and quotes the following from a speech made there by Edmund Randolph, (since dead)

"For God's sake gentlemen tell me of battles fought and won. Tell me of the usurpers overthrown; that Missouri is again a free State, no more crushed under the armed heel of a reckless and corrupt despot. Tell me that the State of Kentucky lives again. And, oh, gentlemen, let me hear at the first moment, that not one bottle of wine treads the soil of Virginia." (Applause and cheers.) If this be rebellion, then I am a rebel. Do you want a traitor? then I am a traitor. For God's sake spread the ball may the word go forth to his heart, and may our country be free from this despot usurper that now claims the name of President of the United States. [Cheers.]"

The Alta adds:

"Two of the delegates who were present at the Convention and cheering Randolph were members of the Convention that nominated Abraham Lincoln, Mr. Vaught and the rest of the Democratic Ticket. Gen. Colwell, the Democratic candidate for Surveyor Greer was a supporting him. It will be seen that they did not vote for Breckinridge at Lincoln's first election, but four years after his second nomination [1864]."

FINANCE AND COMMERCE

WEEKLY BY

POWELL & PRIMM, 37 M.,
Aug. 16, 1867.

The news from New York, yesterday quote gold at [illegible] and the San Francisco mint steady at 72 [illegible].

The New York trade report of the 14th represents trade [illegible] still enough there is a plethora of money. Prime coast wheat was quoted at $2 56@2 70 per bushel. Flour was $10 50. The crop prospects in the South have been greatly improved by recent heavy rains. The fall in the price of grain at the West will probably suffice to supply the markets as well that the demand for Pacific coast flour will be limited. The reputation which the latter has established in New York, Boston and Philadelphia, may, however cause a moderate demand for use at the finer bakeries and hotels; but it will scarcely go beyond this, we cannot depend on profitable shipments to the East.

We are able to report a considerable improvement in the general jobbing business of this city during the last week. There has no doubt been a better feeling in produce, but nearly all branches of trade have received an impetus, which gives us strong augury of the future. A [illegible] grocery trade, which has done a fair business during most of the dull season, represents the past week as the best [illegible] Large shipments have been made up the [illegible] while the trade with the Willamette [illegible] up to the average. The [illegible] and [illegible] of hopeful character, and [illegible] Though there are few changes in [illegible] prices are well sustained. [illegible] Sides and hams are quoted as such as will [illegible] be likely to call out the supply in the hands of farmers. As yet, though several [illegible] have been received, the market is poorly supplied and [illegible] demand is strong. Sugars are still advancing [illegible] of most descriptions, though in good supply are held [illegible] quotations. Hardware is [illegible] with few [illegible] in the city, and prices unchanged.

The San Francisco Times of the 7th inst., says: "The market for [illegible] coffee and sugar exhibits increasing firmness, the demanding extreme prices whenever offering to sell. Butter seems hardening day by day, the price of Messrs occupying as wide a range as for some time past. California butter is also advancing, owing to the [illegible] supplies."

The Review of the 6th says of Oregon Salt: "Samples of this salt, manufactured at the St. Helens Works, 23 miles below Portland, have been received. The quality is quite dry, and the general appearance good. The article is made from saline, evaporated by steam."

The Alta also gives the following New York quotations for July 13th, the latest dates received: "California flour continued in high favor, and the advance in this description was relatively higher than on the other kinds. The range at the close was $12@15 in barrels and sacks. The stock of wheat in store had been reduced to a little over 300,000 bushels. White California was quoted at 90@92½, the inside figure for ordinary quality. There had been sales of 40,000 lbs California wool at 17@20c for hurry and 22@23c for unwashed, free of burs."

Domestic Produce Market.

PORTLAND, Aug. 16, 1867.

Receipts for the week, light. There is a good demand for bacon—sides, hams and shoulders—at advanced rates. No unusual inquiry for any other article in this list. Contrary to the general expectation of a month ago, the grain crop of the country will give a liberal surplus above local wants. Winter wheat, much of which has been thrashed, is turning out far better than was anticipated. The fruit crop is fair, and altogether the farmers are going to have as much produce as can be worked off with profit in the limited markets to which we have access. Our advice to those who yet have bacon in stores, is that they offer it without too much delay. The late tendency in prices to go up, cannot be depended upon to continue any great length of time.

Perry Davis' Vegetable Pain Killer

Possesses virtue which not only removes pain instantly, but regulates the stomach and gives strength, tone and vigor to the system. It is one of the medicines that is worth more than gold.

Don't experiment in testing new remedies, when you can buy the genuine Pain Killer, which everybody know to be good.

The Woodstock (C. W.) Sentinel says: "It is a generally admitted fact, that the medicine manufactured by Messrs. Perry Davis & Son has been instrumental in alleviating much pain, and giving relief to millions of suffering humanity. The medical faculty almost everywhere recommend the Pain Killer, and its reputation is now established as the most beneficial family medicine now in use, and may be taken internally and externally to expel pain." Sold by all medicine dealers.

Pacific Degree Lodge No. 1, I. O. G. T.—Holds regular meetings in Good Templars' Hall, corner Alder and Front streets, the First and Third Mondays in the month. Degree members in good standing are invited to attend. no1 2ddtf

ASTHMA.—This disease causes great difficulty of breathing, and tightness across the chest, and sometimes attended with a great deal of suffocation. The paroxysm generally comes on at night, while lying down; sometimes it is attended with great violence. Allen's Lung Balsam will always give immediate relief, and in many cases, if persevered in, it will cure the disease altogether. RHEUMATISM CURED!

PORTLAND, August 10th, 1867.

I HAVE SUFFERED A LONG TIME WITH RHEUmatic Pains, and until now have found nothing to relieve me. To day Mr. J. G. Rennick called at my store and assured me that he could cure me in a few minutes. I thought he was mistaken, and laughed at him, but found to my surprise that a few moments after the application of the SITKA LINIMENT, I was relieved of my pains, and I am now improving very fast. I now believe it will cure me in a few days. For further information call at my store, No. 182 First street.

SPRAINED WRIST CURED.

PORTLAND, August 10, 1867.

I was at Mr. Wegner's store on Saturday, August 10th, and seeing the magic effect of J. G. RENNICK'S SITKA LINIMENT, his cure, concluded to try it on my wrist which has been sprained for some time. I found relief inside of FIVE MINUTES from its application, and it is now perfectly well. My wrist was so swelled I could not shut my fingers. I believe it will cure any pain in a short time. I will give any further particulars to whoever calls on me.

Tumor Removed!

PORTLAND, August 10th, 1867.

I HAVE USED RENNICK'S SITKA LINIMENT for pain and swelling of the gum and cheek. I had a large tumor forming in the gum which arose from killing the nerve in my tooth and caused me a dreadful pain which prevented me from sleep for several nights. I applied the Liniment, and to my surprise, it removed the lump and eased the pain so that it is now as well as the other cheek. My cheek was fearfully swollen. This was done in the presence of two witnesses.

GLOBE HOTEL,

Corner of North Front and C Streets,

PORTLAND, OREGON.

THE UNDERSIGNED WOULD RESPECTFULLY inform the citizens of Portland and the travelling community, that he is now ready to receive and entertain all who may favor him with a call, in a manner and at prices to suit the times.

"THE GLOBE" is a NEW HOUSE, just finished; the rooms are large, well ventilated and elegantly furnished with carpets, &c., &c. The table will always be supplied with the very best the market affords.

It will be the constant and earnest endeavor of the proprietor to so conduct the "GLOBE HOTEL" as to give entire satisfaction to his guests; he would therefore respectfully solicit the patronage of the public.

Patents for Inventions.

Business with the United States Patent Office, such as filing Caveats, and procuring Letters Patent, will be prosecuted with strict care and attention. All business of this character will be strictly confidential.

General Land Office—Patents for Lands,

Will attend to procuring Patents for United States Lands, located by Land Warrants or purchased with cash. All business connected with the General Land Office, such as collecting money for lands erroneously entered with cash, or return of the Land Warrants erroneously located; the settlement of cases under the Pre-Emption Laws, and examining titles, will receive prompt attention.

Bounty Land Warrants.

Will procure Bounty Land Warrants (160 acres) for each of the surviving Officers, Chaplains, Soldiers, Seamen, Marines, Clerks, and Landsmen in the Navy—Wagon Masters and Teamsters, who served in any of the wars in which the United States has been engaged since 1790 to 1861. In case of the death of any of the above, the widow or minor children are entitled.

Bounty and Arrears of Pay.

Will procure arrears of Pay due Officers, and Bounty and arrears of Pay due Soldiers, Seamen and Marines. If any of the above have died, the amount due is payable to the Widow, Children, Father and Mother, and Brother and Sister, in their turn.

Pensions.

Will procure Pensions for Officers of the Army and Navy, Soldiers, Seamen and Marines, who have been disabled by wounds received, or who contracted a disease while in the line of duty; and if any of the above were killed in battle, or have died from said causes, the following are entitled to them in their order, viz: Widow, Children (under 16 years of age), Father and Mother and Sisters, if dependant upon their deceased son or brother for support, either in whole or in part.

The Pension Laws apply to all wars in which the United States have been engaged.

Unusual facilities are afforded me for the collection of these claims, having resided and competent assistants at Washington, D. C., and New York, who have been in the business for the past fifteen years and give them their sole attention.

All communications asking advice or information should enclose postage, or whenever of a character requiring it, should be accompanied with a reasonable fee.

To Soldiers Claiming Bounties

UNDER THE

EQUALIZATION BOUNTY BILL!

THE UNDERSIGNED, HAVING RECENTLY RETURNED from Washington City, where he has made the proper arrangements for the collections of the Extra Bounty of $100 allowed to all soldiers enlisted after the 19th day of April, 1861, for a period of not less than three years, and $50 for soldiers enlisted for a period of not less than two years.

Persons entitled to the benefits of said Bounty will find it to their interest to attend to its collection at once. Having an Agent at Washington, and personal knowledge of the mode of making collections through the Departments, I can get returns promptly.

☞ Call with your Discharge, and two witnesses for identification, at the Publication Office of the Daily Oregonian, No. 5 Washington St., Portland.

A. BUSHWILLER, Claim Agent.

N. B.

Persons residing at a great distance can have their claims attended to by sending me their "Discharge," Postoffice address and place of enlistment.
